

ABSTRACT

The present invention relates to novel compositions and methods for the 5 generation of MHC class II compounds. Such methods are useful in identifying antigenspecific T cells, regulating an immune response and treating subjects suffering from an immune disorder.

10